

Dongguan Jia Hong Toys Co., Ltd. is a processing-oriented privately-owned enterprise that introduces foreign advanced management technology. It is a professional company that develops, produces metal and plastic products, integrating R&D, processing and manufacturing.

Dongguan Jia Hong Toys Co., Ltd. was founded in 2007; The company has developed a good relationship with many well-known Japanese, USA and EU toy companies. In September 2014, in order to meet the long-term development needs of the company, the company moved to Qingxi Town, Dongguan. Through the selfless support of Japanese technicians and the hard work of our staff, we have rapidly grown into a high-quality, high-tech company in a short period of time.

The company is famous for its modern management, complete processing and testing facilities, and experienced technicians and technicians. The high quality products produced by the company are recognized by the majority of users.

Since the founding of the company, in order to improve the competitiveness of the product market according to market demand, the company has continuously improved its management, improved its technical level, updated its equipment, and improved its product quality. It has always adhered to the principle of "quality-oriented, customer first, meeting requirements". Continuous improvement".... This company's quality policy, the company has always been the quality of the product as the company's development philosophy, and jointly pursue the future of excellence...

The company's goal is to develop and produce products in the toy industry of the international level and other high-quality products in China. At the same time, in order to thank the industry's predecessors and friends for their guidance and help, we strive to return with more professionalism and better service.